

Sharing audits

Improving CSR standards

Improving working conditions

Building supplier capability

AIM-PROGRESS

PROGRAM FOR RESPONSIBLE SOURCING

Value of Audits & Mutual Recognition

Introduction: Tomas Wilkinson

Josiane Schiavini, Quality Manager - Global Accounts, BR Foods

Fernando Gabel, VP Latam, All4 Labels

Jorge Unterleider, CEO, Pirisa

Audits- General Perception

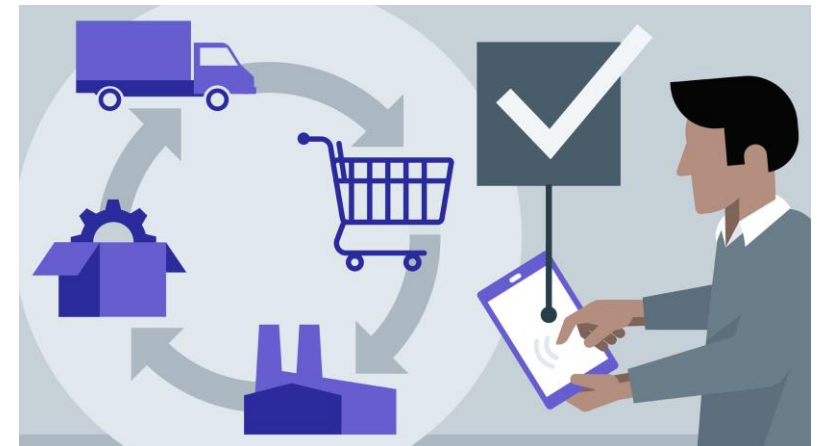

- Evaluation
- Finding Faults
- Track Supply Chain Issues
- Comprehensive Review of policies and processes

Audits- Progressive Perception

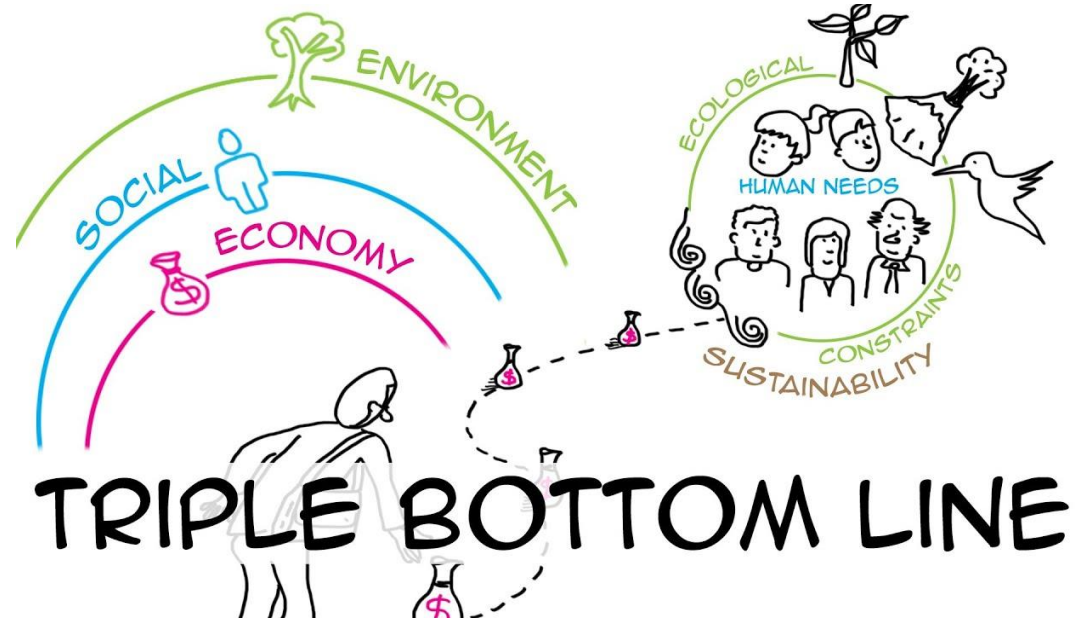

- Assists Continuous Improvement
- Builds Trust
- Builds Supply Chain Health

The Business Case

- Increased Transparency & accountability of your company's operations
- Enhanced Reputation
- Ability to preempt risk and mitigate adequately
- Helps attract and retain talent
- Reduce waste and enhance productivity

Mutual recognition of on-site audits

What?

- Objective is to reduce audit fatigue
- Align on key issues of responsible sourcing

Why?

- Promote responsible sourcing whilst reducing the duplication of supplier audits

How?

Step 1:

- Benchmark member companies' audit protocols against a joint set of common criteria – our common benchmark is SMETA 6.0
- If the audit protocol is 85% equivalent to our common benchmark, companies can participate in the Mutual Recognition initiative.

Step 2:

- Sign on to the joint Mutual Recognition statement.

Step 3:

- Share list of audited suppliers over the last three years via the AIM-PROGRESS Secretariat (who provides aggregated and anonymous excel format)

Step 4:

- Check the list for suppliers you may want to audit. Request audit reports directly from them (or upload them via a shared platform, e.g. Sedex

Supplier Spotlight:

All4Labels

BRFoods

Pirisa

